INTRODUCTION

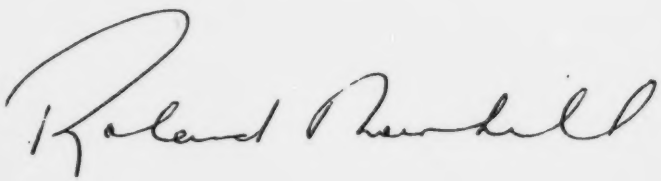
I would like to introduce the Department of Development's 1984-85 edition of the "Nova Scotia Ocean Industries Directory" which presents information on goods and services provided to the offshore by over 1,000 establishments in Nova Scotia.

Over the past several years a keen interest in Nova Scotia has developed with increased awareness of the challenges and opportunities available off Canada's East Coast. Within the province, many existing firms are adapting their activities to meet the needs of the offshore, new companies are entering the petroleum field and companies from other oil and gas centres of the world are forming joint ventures or other business arrangements with local firms. This directory provides a comprehensive listing through which domestic and international exploration and development companies can be made aware of the range of products and services which can be provided by Nova Scotia establishments.

Since the Canada/Nova Scotia Agreement on Offshore Oil and Gas Resource Management and Revenue Sharing was signed in March 1982 there have been commitments to drill 46 exploratory wells on the Scotian Shelf, representing $2.4 billions of expenditures. Over $500 millions was spent in 1983 by the major operators, namely – Mobil Oil, Shell Canada, Petro Canada, Home Oil and Husky/Bow Valley. At mid 1984 Mobil Oil is proceeding with work on the Venture Field development, Shell Canada is beginning delineation of the Glenelg discovery and planning is underway on a natural gas pipeline transmission and distribution system. Major challenges, development and further exploration activities in the Nova Scotia offshore area lie ahead in the next few years.

I would like to thank the individual firms for their co-operation in providing the Department of Development with the information for this directory. This represents one aspect of the Department's goal of maximizing the benefits to be realized by Nova Scotia establishments from offshore activity.

Yours sincerely,



Roland J. Thornhill
Minister of Development

FACTS – NOVA SCOTIA

Nova Scotia is a peninsula nearly 580 kilometers long and 150 kilometers wide reaching out from North America toward Europe. It is connected to the province of New Brunswick by a narrow strip of land and is bounded by the Northumberland Strait, the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the Atlantic Ocean and the Bay of Fundy.

The ports of Halifax and Point Tupper are the mainland North American ports closest to Europe that are totally ice-free. The port at Halifax has two container facilities and an up-to-date shipyard with a drydock capable of handling Panamax size vessels. Point Tupper on the Strait of Canso has facilities to service very large crude oil carriers (VLCCs).

An excellent system of all-weather highways connects the capital of Halifax with all parts of the province. Halifax is also the Atlantic terminus of Canadian National Railways; and from Halifax International Airport there are direct flights to major Canadian and U.S. cities as well as London, Bermuda and Amsterdam. In addition, there are two regional and seven municipal airports.

The ferry system linking Nova Scotia with New Brunswick and Maine can deliver Nova Scotia's exports into the Boston-to-Washington area within 24 hours. Ferry services also link Nova Scotia with Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

There are approximately 1,600 manufacturing establishments in Nova Scotia, of which approximately 40 employ more than 200 people. Firms such as Michelin Tire (Canada) Ltd., Volvo Canada Ltd., and Helly-Hansen Canada Ltd., have come from Europe to set up operations in Nova Scotia and thrive alongside such indigenous Nova Scotia firms as the I.M.P. Group (aerospace, oceanology), Steel and Engine Products Limited (metal fabrication), Nautical Electronic Laboratories Limited (navigational equipment) and many others.

The capital city of Nova Scotia is Halifax, the banking, financial, research and distribution centre which caters to 2.3 million people in the Atlantic provinces.

THE CANADA/NOVA SCOTIA SUBSIDIARY AGREEMENT OCEAN INDUSTRY DEVELOPMENT

A substantial ocean manufacturing and service industry base already exists in Nova Scotia. In addition the Province boasts a world-renowned group of ocean related scientific and research institutions. These assets, together with the increasing offshore oil and gas activity, provide the opportunity to establish Nova Scotia as a centre of ocean industry activity and excellence.

Convinced that ocean industry will be a major factor in the growth and development of the Atlantic Region's economy during the decade of the 80's, the Governments of Canada and Nova Scotia have signed the Canada/Nova Scotia Ocean Industry Development Subsidiary Agreement committing $35 million to assist in establishing medium to high technology ocean related industries in Nova Scotia.

The objectives of the Subsidiary Agreement are:

To stimulate the growth of, and provide support for, medium to high technology ocean manufacturing and service industries which will serve as the cornerstone for the long-term development of a major Nova Scotian ocean industrial complex; and to provide support for applied research and technology transfer which will enable Nova Scotia to capitalize on its existing ocean scientific base to become a true "centre of excellence" in the ocean industries sector.

The agreement, the first major initiative in Canada relating to ocean industry, consists of two groups of programs funded individually by the federal and provincial governments. Seven programs, to cost $22.9 million, are administered and paid for by the federal government. Four programs, costing $12 million, are funded and administered by the provincial government.

FEDERAL PROGRAMS

One million dollars is being invested to help the private sector market existing ocean industry products and services.

Existing grants available to ocean industry firms under the Regional Development incentives Act (RDIA) program can be supplemented from a capital assistance fund totalling $7.7 million. Ocean industry manufacturing and service companies not eligible under the RDIA program may qualify independently under the Capital Assistance program.

Continuing research and development is essential in order for Nova Scotia ocean industry companies to meet world competition. Seven and one-half million dollars is directed to foster applied research and encourage technology transfer.

The federal government has established an Ocean Industry Development Office to provide a focal point and leadership in the growth of the ocean industry sector in Nova Scotia. The role of the Office is to actively promote the development of new and the expansion of existing ocean industries in Nova Scotia. The Office undertakes various marketing, promotion and information activities and assists firms to gain access to financial incentives and technical assistance.

Financial support is available to assist appropriate ocean industry trade associations with activities aimed at promoting and enhancing Nova Scotia as a centre of ocean industry.

Subsidiary Agreement programs are evaluated on a continuing basis to ensure they are meeting the intended objectives.

PROVINCIAL PROGRAMS

An allocated $7.9 million will service the Woodside Ocean Industrial Park located in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia. Included in the plans for the development and expansion of the Park are the construction of road, water and sewer facilities; the cleaning and grubbing of industrial sites; and the construction of a new common-user wharf.

Funds have been allocated to assist approved ocean industries with the payment of municipal taxes for new or expanded facilities. Reimbursement of taxes is arranged on a sliding scale and applies during the first four years of the facility's operation.

The Ocean Industries Innovation Centre has been established to help expand the capability of prospective entrepreneurs and existing small businesses to participate successfully in the growth of the ocean industry sector. This Centre provides a wide range of advice and assistance (including financial), organizes management development programs and monitors technological developments of relevance to eligible individuals and companies.

The Ocean Industry Development Subsidiary Agreement was signed on July 24, 1981 and terminates on July 23, 1986. For additional information, please contact:

USE OF DIRECTORY

Ocean industries under the scope of this Directory is defined as:

> "Firms which manufacture equipment or provide services in support of commercial and scientific activity associated with the ocean, with particular emphasis on goods and services related to offshore energy.
> The Directory does NOT include firms involved in harvesting fish, aquaculture, boatbuilding and repair, defence, retail activity, etc.; however, it does include the equipment and services which are used in these primary industries."

To locate suppliers of a given product or service, consult the alphabetic index of the products/services classification to find the names of the companies that provide them. Then refer to the alphabetic index of companies for a full listing of the types of products and/or services offered.

The employment numbers given in the Directory represent the employment figure specified by the company as their employment at locations within Nova Scotia only.

Market location information is referenced by a code number. For an interpretation of this coding system see the sample listing at the beginning of the alphabetic company section of the Directory.

The following abbreviations have been used within the text of the Directory:

ABBREVIATIONS:

Anna. Co.	Annapolis County
Ant. Co.	Antigonish County

In order to service the demand for current and readily available information on Nova Scotian firms actively involved in our offshore, the Nova Scotia Department of Development is now establishing an on-line data retrieval system in conjunction with our Ocean Industries Directory. We wish to thank the individual firms we have been in contact with during the past several months for their co-operation in assisting us in this endeavor.

We apologize for any errors or omissions in our Directory – although unintentional, they can occur in a publication of this nature. Your comments as to the usefulness and accuracy of our Directory or interest in our on line data retrieval are welcome.

Also published by the Statistics & Research Services Branch of the Nova Scotia Department of Development is the "NOVA SCOTIA DIRECTORY OF MANUFACTURERS". This Directory serves as a reference to Nova Scotia's approximately 1,600 manufacturers, many of which provide products to the offshore.

The following industries are covered in our Manufacturers' Directory:

Food and Beverage Industries
Tobacco Products Industries
Rubber and Plastic Products Industries
Leather Industries
Textile Industries
Knitting Mills
Clothing Industries
Wood Industries
Furniture and Fixture Industries
Paper and Allied Industries
Printing, Publishing and Allied Industries
Primary Metal Industries
Metal Fabricating Industries (Except Machinery and Transportation Equipment Industries)
Machinery Industries (Except Electrical Machinery)
Transportation Equipment Industries
Electrical Products Industries
Non-Metallic Mineral Products Industries
Petroleum and Coal Products Industries
Chemical and Chemical Products Industries
Miscellaneous Manufacturing Industries

ALPHABETIC CLASSIFICATION

ALPHABETIC CLASSIFICATION

This portion of the Directory lists companies alphabetically. It includes a complete detailed record on all known Nova Scotian establishments providing products/services relative to offshore activities.

For companies with more than one establishment in Nova Scotia, the overall company name will appear first, followed by each establishment name (in italics print). Full detail will be given for each plant. Geographic location of an establishment is noted when different than in mailing address.

Refer to the example below for an explanation of the coding used in the alphabetic section to describe the market locations served by these companies.

GEOGRAPHIC CLASSIFICATION

GEOGRAPHIC CLASSIFICATION

Establishments which appear in the alphabetic section of the Directory are shown geographically in this listing. The geographic classification consists of county name, followed by all company location names in that county (indicated alphabetically). The 1981 Census population where available, appears to the right of these areas. Information on each firm is listed alphabetically under each area, including a market indicator and number of employees.

ATLANTIC COAL INSTITUTE

P.O. Box 1594
Sydney, Cape Breton County
Nova Scotia B1P 6R8
Dr. W. Dieter Birk, P. Geol., Director
Telephone (902) 539-2800

The Atlantic Coal Institute is incorporated as a private non-profit company under the Nova Scotia Companies Act to conduct testing, research, and training on problems of exploration, extraction, and utilization of fossil fuels. Comprehensive analytical laboratories have been established at strategically located Sydney, Nova Scotia (located at Cape Breton Adult Vocational Training Centre), on top of the Cape Breton Coalfields and adjacent to the Atlantic oil patch. These facilities conduct geochemical, mineralogical, and microbiological, analysis of rock, core, cuttings, or fluids. Equipment includes petrographic microscopes, gas chromatographs, organic analysers, and a Jeol-Tracor system for SEM-EDXray microranalysis.

Offshore exploration questions of sediment maturity, oil-source correlation, or reservoir quality can be addressed. Production questions of corrosion or environmental impact can be assisted.

The Institute welcomes corporate inquiries and will submit project proposals and bids on request.

ATLANTIC RESEARCH LABORATORY NATIONAL RESEARCH COUNCIL OF CANADA

1411 Oxford Street
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3H 3Z1
Dr. F.J. Simpson, Director
Dr. R.A. Foxall, Assistant Director
Telephone (902) 426-8332

The Atlantic Research Laboratory (ARL), is situated on the campus of Dalhousie University in Halifax, and operates a seaweed culture station on the shore of the Atlantic Ocean at Sandy Cove, near Sambro. The Halifax laboratory houses the Atlantic Regional Station of the Division of Building Research.

Research in the laboratory is conducted by a multidisciplinary group, consisting of physical and organic chemists working in association with engineers, biochemists and biologists. About half of the research is on the oceans. The research staff consists of 30 scientists, 4 research associates and 22 technical officers. A librarian and assistant provide library and information services for the staff and, in co-operation with other librarians, help provide services to other scientists in the Atlantic region. The total staff of 79 is usually augmented with some 10 to 20 guest scientists and during the summer with 20 or more students.

ARL is responsible for the development and certification of reference materials and standards, and development of improved methods for use by marine chemists in studying the oceans and by environmental regulatory agencies. The work is done in close co-operation with the Division of Chemistry, National Research Council (NRC), in Ottawa and much is contracted out. Several marine sediment reference materials have been released. Basic research on the taxonomy, genetics, physiology and chemistry of marine plants is directed at developing the commercial use of algae and diatoms in aquaculture systems and as sources of chemicals for the food and pharmaceutical industries.

ARL also conducts research on and manages a co-operative R & D program on utilization of coal, peat and research in materal-luragical chemistry, mycotoxins, the Ostrich Fern and lichens.

BEDFORD INSTITUTE OF OCEANOGRAPHY

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES & OCEANS
OCEAN SCIENCE AND SURVEYS
Dartmouth, Nova Scotia
Dr. A.R. Longhurst, Director-General
Telephone: (902) 426-3492

The Bedford Institute of Oceanography (BIO) is Canada's largest oceanographic research establishment. It is a federal institute, comprising several laboratories and groups with a common mission to contribute to the knowledge and understanding of the marine environment and its resources, principally off Canada's Atlantic seaboard and the eastern Canada Arctic, but its staff also work in other regions, principally through participation in international experiments.

Its research fleet comprises four major vessels, including the C.S.S. HUDSON, plus a number of smaller craft. The scientific scope of the institute's research embraces physical, chemical, geological and geophysical studies of the oceans as well as biological and fisheries investigations. There is also a marine survey role covering both navigational charting and natural resource mapping. The Institute is situated on a waterfront site adjacent to Halifax Harbour.

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES AND OCEANS
OCEAN SCIENCE AND SURVEYS
ATLANTIC OCEANOGRAPHIC LABORATORY
Bedford Institute of Oceanography
Dartmouth, Nova Scotia
Dr. G.T. Needler, Director
Telephone (902) 426-7456

The Atlantic Oceanographic Laboratory (AOL) carries out pure and applied research in the fields of physical and chemical oceanography in the North Atlantic Ocean. It is also involved in the research and development of new instrumentation and methods of data acquisition. It is linked both physically and scientifically with other laboratories housed at the Bedford Institute of Oceanography which undertake research in marine ecology, marine geology and geophysics and hydrographic surveys. Projects of the Atlantic Oceanographic Laboratory are supported by in-house capability in the fields of mechanical and electrical engineering and computer technology.

The staff of the Atlantic Oceanographic Laboratory is comprised of 56 scientific and professional and 61 support staff. There are four divisions, namely, Ocean Circulation, Coastal Oceanography, Chemical Oceanography and Metrology. Work in either of these divisions would have an impact on the present offshore development and exploration of the seas.

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES AND OCEANS
OCEAN SCIENCE AND SURVEYS
CANADIAN HYDROGRAPHIC SERVICE
Bedford Institute of Oceanography
Dartmouth, Nova Scotia
A.J. Kerr, Director
Telephone (902) 426-3497

Hydrography, a directorate within Ocean Science and Surveys at BIO, is the Atlantic Regional Office of the Canadian Hydrographic Service.

This organization, with a staff of 78, is responsible for the charting of the Atlantic coast from the U.S. boarder to the eastern Arctic. Over this vast area, surveys are conducted, producing charts, sailing directions, tide tables and other publications of need to the mariner.

Hydrography consists of two major divisions — Charting and Cartography — and four minor ones, Navigation, Tidal, Development and Planning and Records. Navigation, Tidal and Development are specialist divisions whose functions range from applied research to support for the two major divisions.

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES AND OCEANS
OCEAN SCIENCE AND SURVEYS
MARINE ECOLOGY LABORATORY
Bedford Institute of Oceanography
Dartmouth, Nova Scotia
Dr. K.H. Mann, Director
Telephone: (902) 426-3696

The Marine Ecology Laboratory undertakes basic research in biological oceanography, with emphasis on gaining a better understanding of marine ecosystems. This understanding is needed for the wise management of oil and gas development of the one hand and the fisheries resource on the other. There are three divisions within the Laboratory. The Biological Oceanography Division carries out research into the fundamental processes of primary and secondary production in the water column. Studies are carried out in all kinds of situations, from the Arctic to the tropics, but most attention is focussed on the Eastern Arctic and the Canadian continental shelves. The Fisheries Oceanography Division is concerned with the factors influencing fish production: environmental factors, biological interactions and the management of the fishery industry. The long-term goal is to improve our ability to make predictions useful to the fishing industry. The Environmental Quality Division is concerned with the changes that take place in marine organisms and ecosystems as a result of chemical contamination, or of major engineering works, such as dams and barrages.

The staff of the Marine Ecology Laboratory is 75 persons, of whom half are at the scientific or professional level.

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES & OCEANS
FISHERIES RESEARCH BRANCH
MARINE FISH DIVISION
Bedford Institute of Oceanography
Dartmouth, Nova Scotia
Dr. Donald Bowen, Division Chief
Telephone (902) 426-8390

Marine Fish Division is an integral part of the DFO fisheries management organization, Scotia-Fundy Region. Its research is directed at understanding the population dynamics of finfish stocks and grey and harbour seals by assessing the effects of fishing, and predicting the response of stocks to regulatory measures within an area covering the southern Gulf of St. Lawrence, Scotian Shelf, Bay of Fundy and Georges Bank. Since 1977 the division has been responsible for managing a long-term monitoring program to improve the understanding of the mechanisms that regulate larval fish distribution, growth and mortality. Centered on the Scotian Shelf and known as the Scotian Shelf Ichthyoplankton Program, it involves frequent cruises by the research vessel Lady Hammond. Other work includes the development of theoretical models for use in the assessment of fish stocks. The division participates in cooperative research projects within Canada's 200-mile fishing zone with other countries, for example the U.S.S.R., to determine the role of silver hake in Scotian Shelf finfish community dynamics.

This organization has components at both the Biological Station at St. Andrews, New Brunswick, and at Bedford Institute of Oceanography. Seventy-two personnel are on staff with twenty-six at the professional level.

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES AND OCEANS
MARINE ADVISORY AND INDUSTRIAL LIAISON OFFICE
Bedford Institute of Oceanography
Dartmouth, Nova Scotia
Dr. A.R. Longhurst, Director-General
Telephone (902) 426-3698

The Bedford Institute of Oceanography Marine Advisory and Industrial Liaison (BIOMAIL) office opens the Institute to anyone seeking information on Canadian Oceanography and related topics. The office promptly and completely meets all requests and redirects them outside BIO if necessary.

The BIOMAIL office: distributes and interprets oceanographic information and data to industry and government departments; encourages the transfer of technology to Canadian industry and the healthy growth of ocean industry, especially in Atlantic Canada; facilitates contractual relations for all aspects of ocean research and development between Canadian industry and BIO; co-ordinates the Institute's review of Unsolicited Proposals; and advises industry of government funding available for the transfer of technology.

The BIOMAIL office also encourages ocean research and development companies to establish facilities on the Institute campus. Suitable leasing arrangements for existing space and for the erection of other buildings on the site can be negotiated. Under some circumstances, charges may be levied for services provided or data supplied.

DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENT
SEABIRD RESEARCH UNIT
Bedford Institute of Oceanography
Dartmouth, Nova Scotia
Dr. D.N. Nettleship
Telephone (902) 426-3274

The reproductive and pelagic ecology of seabirds are the main topics of research. To date the emphasis has been in the eastern Arctic and Atlantic Provinces, where the aim has been to develop an information base that will allow estimates and predictions of the impact of offshore oil and gas developments on populations of seabirds to be made.

Major investigations include: community structure and resource allocation of populations of seabirds breeding at Prince Leopold Island, Lancaster Sound; breeding biology and population levels of northern fulmar, black-legged kittiwake, and thick-billed Murre in Lancaster Sound and Jones Sound; distribution and abundance of colonial nesting seabirds in Labrador and eastern Newfoundland; and distributions of seabirds at sea in eastern Canada.

New projects are now being initiated at biologically important low-Arctic and temporate marine water sites where industrial expansion and resource development activities are increasing.

DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENT
ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION SERVICE
Bedford Institute of Oceanography
Dr. H.S. Samant, Chief of Laboratory and Shellfish Division
Telephone (902) 426-6237/3288

The Environmental Protection Service is responsible for maintaining and enhancing the environment. Its Laboratory and Shellfish Division, consisting of chemists, toxicologists, biologists, microbiologists and other scientific and administrative support staff, provides laboratory support to various pollution abatement and control programs in the Atlantic Region, including environmental emergencies and toxic substances. The Division is also responsible for investigative work and provides advice and expertise in environmental matters.

Laboratory investigations include the chemical, toxicological and micro-biological fields and range from problem identification to compliance monitoring in connection with air, water and land pollution, toxic chemicals and hazardous waste management programs, and environmental emergencies to technology transfer.

The Laboratory and Shellfish Division is located at BIO and 15 professional and support staff are employed.

DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY

Coburg Road
Halifax, Nova Scotia
Vice-President, Academic and Research
Telephone (902) 424-2511

Dalhousie University is committed to education and research in the marine sciences. All basic science courses, including oceanography, are offered to the M.Sc. and Ph.D. level. Research on marine topics is carried out in almost every department and school at the university.

DEPARTMENT OF OCEANOGRAPHY

Dr. A.J. Dowen, Chairman
Dr. N. Balch, Manager, Aquatron Laboratory
Telephone (902) 424-3557

The faculty of the Department of Oceanography encompass expertise in physical, chemical and biological oceanography as well as marine geology and geophysics. Research is currently underway on the tides of Fundy, shoreline transport, the fate of carbon dioxide in the oceans, fisheries, plankton population dynamics, biological production on the Scotian Shelf and earth tides. The Aquatron Laboratory is a specialized marine research facility designed to allow scientists to control environmental variables within the confines of the laboratory. Its facilities include a 3.5 m deep, 15.2 m wide tank (684 cubic metres) and a 10.4 m deep, 3.6 m wide tank (117 cubic metres). Both tanks are supplied with seawater which can be heated, cooled, filtered and continuously circulated. High pressure facilities for simulation of deepsea conditions are also available.

DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY

Dr. B.K. Hall, Chairman
Telephone (902) 424-3514

Faculty members in the Department of Biology are actively involved in several areas of marine research. These include: the genetics and culture of local and European oysters, environmental impact assessment methodology, production biology of seaweeds, aquaculture and modelling of marine ecosystems. The department has excellent facilities at its disposal including 630 square metres of live holding space, 396 square metres of wet laboratories and growth chambers, plus 54 controlled environment chambers, all serviced with running seawater.

DEPARTMENT OF GEOLOGY

Dr. M. Zentilli, Chairman
Telephone (902) 424-2358

The Department of Geology has expertise in many areas relating to the marine environment. Current research projects include deep drilling of the ocean crust, seismic studies of the continental shelf, sediment dispersal in Halifax Inlet and petrochemistry of igneous rocks.

DALHOUSIE OCEAN STUDIES PROGRAM

Dr. E. Gold, Executive Director
Telephone (902) 424-6557

The Dalhousie Ocean Studies Program draws on the resources of the Law School, the Canadian Marine Transportation Centre and the Institute for Resource and Environmental Studies. The program includes 12 projects dealing with the problems of coastal zone management and offshore development. Research is being conducted in ocean law and policy, ocean transportation and offshore business, marine resource management and coastal community development.

Other departments at Dalhousie, notably the Departments of Chemistry, Physics and Engineering Physics, have highly skilled personnel and modern equipment which could be made available to assist ocean science projects.

THE INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Aided by a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation, Dalhousie University established its Institute of Public Affairs in 1936. Conceived as an experimental centre, it has served as a bridge between the university and the community in the areas of social science and public policy.

Currently, the Institute continues to focus on the Atlantic Region. However, it has been increasingly recognized that many problems, solutions and opportunities are not unique to the Region. Thus, the Institute's work has expanded to the national and international level, permitting it to develop experience useful in addressing regional concerns and to share its experience with others.

The aim of the Institute's Research Programme is to bring university research resources to bear on economic and social problems, particularly those that affect the Atlantic Region. The broad objectives are to assist in promoting the social, economic and political well-being of Atlantic Canada, and to assist the people of the area to achieve a greater measure of self-reliance. Since 1971, a community-oriented, applied social science research programme has been pursued.

The Research Programme has taken a multidisciplinary approach to most research tasks. Professionals with backgrounds in economics, sociology, political science, geography, regional science, planning, management, public administration, education, law, computer science, systems analysis, industrial relations, and other fields have provided inputs to specific projects. The team approach is a characteristic feature of much of the work carried out at the Institute.

DEFENCE RESEARCH ESTABLISHMENT ATLANTIC
DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL DEFENCE

P.O. Box 1012, 9 Grove Street
Dartmouth, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B2Y 3Z7
Mr. F.A.A. Fergusson, Chief
Telephone (902) 426-3100

The Defence Research Establishment Atlantic is one of six establishments within the Department of National Defence that report to the Chief of Research and Development, who is responsible for a national program of defence research and development and scientific consultative services to the Canadian Forces and the department.

The establishment employs approximately 150 professionals and technicians, in the following:

Research into ocean acoustics aimed at the detection and tracking of submarines from ships and aircraft. This involves experiments at sea from research ships to study the acoustics of the environment and to test the performance of experimental innovations in array processing, sensor development, high speed digital signal processing and computer-aided detection.

Research in ship hydronautics and structural analysis directed to providing fundamental data and improved methods (primarily computer-based) for ship design, specification and evaluation. This work involves theoretical and experimental studies in ship motions in waves, the performance and noise of propellers and appendages, and structural analysis by finite element techniques.

Materials activities concerned with the behaviour of a wide variety of old and new materials that are being used in the marine environment. Chemistry and metallurgy are major areas of interest.

Immediate scientific and technical services to the Canadian Forces provided to address problems with and requests for improvements to existing equipment and techniques.

HALIFAX FISHERIES RESEARCH LABORATORY
DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES AND OCEANS

P.O. Box 550
1707-1721 Lower Water Street
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 2S7
Telephone (902) 426-6250

The Halifax Laboratory complex of the Department of Fisheries and Oceans on Lower Water Street is involved in many functions vital to a modern fishery. Several research groups are concerned with invertebrates and marine plants, stock assessments, fish disease, fish nutrition, aquaculture, environmental contaminants in fish, general marine biology and the development of improved methods to catch, process and store fish. In addition to the research function, groups in inspection monitor quality, and chemical and microbiological contaminants in fish products for the whole region (enhancing consistent operating of Inspection Laboratories and of processing plants).

FISHERIES RESEARCH BRANCH

NOVA SCOTIA NAUTICAL INSTITUTE
NOVA SCOTIA DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

P.O. Box 578
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 2S9
Capt. John Samson, Principal
Telephone (902) 424-3290

The Nova Scotia Nautical Institute was established in 1973 through an amalgamation of the Marine Engineers' School and the Marine Navigation School. The Institute trains marine personnel to Ministry of Transport standards for the full range of Marine certificates, Marine Safety and other related duties.

The following courses are offered: Marine Engineering (4th Class certificate to 1st Class certificate), Basic Marine Engineering, Master Mariner, Ocean Navigation I and II, Coastal Navigation I and II, Command Endorsement, Watchkeeping, Fishing Master I to IV, Master Minor Waters, Master Ferry Steamship, 1st Mate Ferry Steamship, 1st Mate Ferry Steamship (short runs), Master Small Crafts, Simulated Electronic Navigation, Advanced Simulated Electronic Navigation, Specialized Radar and Traffic Control for Harbour Pilots, Marine Navigation Cadet, Seaman New Entry, Industrial and Marine Rigging, Marine Emergency Duties (Lifesaving Appliances, Firefighting, Rescue and Survival) I, II and III, Petroleum Tanker Safety.

Specialized short courses can be arranged through contact with the staff.

NOVA SCOTIA RESEARCH FOUNDATION CORPORATION

P.O. Box 790
100 Fenwick Street
Dartmouth, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B2Y 3Z7
Mr. T.B. Nickerson, President
Telephone (902) 424-8670
Telex 019-22719

Founded in 1946 by the Government of Nova Scotia, the Research Foundation Corporation provides a wide range of applied scientific, engineering and technical services on a contract basis for industry and government. The Corporation occupies 60,000 square feet of laboratory space and a 5,000 square foot pilot plant.

Emphasis is placed on research and engineering projects related to the ocean. Projects include development of ocean monitoring devices and accessories for the deep diving and remote control vehicle industries, geophysics surveys for offshore oil exploration and production, the extraction of magnesium from seawater, mathematical models of commercial fishing systems, salt water corrosion, hydrogen sulphide in water monitoring and fishing machines. NSRFC has a staff of 130 scientists, engineers and technicians, over half having experience in ocean research and engineering, with skills covering the areas of marine biology, marine chemistry, marine geophysics and marine electronic and mechanical engineering.

The Corporation has established a Centre of Ocean Technology with support from the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce (since renamed Department of Regional Industrial Expansion). The Centre's emphasis is on new product design and development, with products being brought through the test marketing phase through an in-house marketing service. The Centre offers both contract design services and new product licensing opportunities to industry.

NOVA SCOTIA SCHOOL OF FISHERIES
NOVA SCOTIA DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES

P.O. Box 700
Denoon Street
Pictou, Pictou County
Nova Scotia B0K 1H0
Telephone (902) 485-4525

The School of Fisheries provides fishermen and those employed in the support industry with the academic and technical skills necessary to meet Transport Canada Certification requirements pertaining to fishing vessels and, also for those who want to up-date their skills in a changing industry.

The School was started in 1946 and provides a full-range of courses* at the Centre in Pictou and through its extension programs, which are provided in fishing communities around the province. Programs range from one week to fifteen weeks in duration.

*Courses are available in navigation, marine engineering, gear technology, marine safety, fish quality and record keeping for fishermen.

TECHNICAL UNIVERSITY OF NOVA SCOTIA

P.O. Box 1000, 1360 Barrington Street
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 2X4
J. Clair Callaghan, P.Eng., President
Telephone (902) 429-8300
Telex 019-21566

The Technical University of Nova Scotia, the only degree-granting engineering school in Nova Scotia, has been involved in ocean engineering development in the Atlantic Region of Canada for several years. Projects related to ocean engineering are being carried out in various sections of the University.

DEPARTMENT OF CIVIL ENGINEERING

The behavior of piled and gravity platforms on beds of sand and clay strata has been investigated by model tests to study their structural and geotechnical behavior.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERING

Marine pollution research involving the mixing processes of pollutions is being pursued.

DEPARTMENT OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

One of the major areas of research in the Electrical Engineering Department involves underwater telemetry and signal processing.

Telemetry research is concerned with such applications as biotelemetry systems and automated monitoring of oceanographic parameters while the signal processing work has concentrated on problems involved with subbottom sonars.

DEPARTMENT OF APPLIED MATHEMATICS

The Department of Applied Mathematics is engaged in a theoretical study of wave forces on offshore structures as used in connection with offshore oil and gas recovery and production. Also, work is being done relating to the tidal response of estuaries and the thermal stratification in oceans, lakes and reservoirs. Computer-aided design procedures are being developed to support a study of tidal power projects in the Bay of Fundy.

DEPARTMENT OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

A major aspect of the teaching and research activities of the department is in the field of naval architecture; the existing faculty in this discipline is foreseen to be augmented in the future. In addition, there are the following four project areas rslated to ocean engineering.

1. (a) Beach Refuse Cleaning Equipment
   Over the past number of years extensive research and development of equipment for the cleaning of refuse (bottles, sea weed, tourist litter, etc.) from recreational beaches has been carried out at the University. This has culminated in the production of two machines capable of cleaning refuse from these beaches. Prototypes are currently undergoing beach testing.
   (b) Caltrop – A means of Removing Spilled Oil From Recreational Beaches
   A concept has been developed and tested which enables spilled oil to be removed from the beach by passing over the area with the Caltrop. This unit contains a spined drum to which the oil sand mixture adheres. The retrieved oil is then removed from the spined drum and deposited into a hopper. Development is needed on this machine to perfect the action in deep oil spills.
2. Towing Tank
   The University has a tank 30 m long with a cross-section, 1 m x 1 m. The tank has a wavemaker on one end and a glass viewing window opposite the beach at the other end.
   Two machined tracks run the length of the tank and carry a self-propelled trolley, which can tow models at controlled speeds down the track.
   At the present a two-component force measuring system and a motion measuring system are being developed.
   The towing tank is useful for tests on models subjected to wave forces or for calibration tests on steady flow devices.
3. Wave-Energy Project
   A wave-energy project supported by a NSERC Strategic Grant is presently being carried out at TUNS. The project involving the determination of the feasibility of the use of a two-raft hinged system has been carried out at the NRC wave tank in Ottawa. The project has application to the dynamic behavior of a wide variety of offshore structures.
4. Fatigue Considerations for Offshore Pipelines
   A project is being carried out on the fatigue of offshore pipelines, particularly: (a) investigation of the behavior of ocean pipelines to ocean waves and currents; (b) determination of vortex shedding frequencies; and (c) development of a numerical model of physical systems.

CAD/CAM CENTRE

A.A. Mufti, Ph.D., F.C.S.C.E., P.Eng., Director

The CAD/CAM Centre is a province-wide resource in CAD/CAM. The Centre's activities include support of finite element computer programs, both linear and non-linear for analysis of wave/structure, soil/structure, wind/wave/structure effects on offshore structures.

ATLANTIC INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE

G.P. Wilson, Director

The Atlantic Industrial Research Institute is an independent, self-supporting contract research Institute located on the Campus of the Technical University of Nova Scotia. It is prepared to explore contract research opportunities with any interested companies or agencies. A wide range of technological expertise from throughout the Campus can be drawn upon to work with the full time research staff of the Institute. Over the past years AIRI staff has built up considerable capability related to the oceans in the area of salt water batteries, corrosion and protective ceramic coatings. The Institute also administers an extensive testing facility performing such tests as tensile strength, hardness, etc., as well as materials analyses.

CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF FISHERIES TECHNOLOGY

Director E.G. Bligh M.Sc., Ph.D.
Research Personnel
R.G. Ackman, M.Sc., DIC, Ph.D.
T.A. Gill, M.Sc., Ph.D.
J.H. Merritt, B.Eng., M. Eng.

The establishment of the Fisheries Research and Technology Laboratory in 1979 was part of the University's new thrust in marine research and education. The primary objectives of the laboratory are to develop capabilities in fisheries education, research, development and design. By fostering and promoting fisheries research and development, in co-operation with industry, governmental agencies and universities, the laboratory will enhance Canadian capability and opportunities in fisheries, through the application of advanced technology.

It is envisaged that the laboratory will, in the long term, develop a capability in all engineering aspects of fisheries, including fishing vessels and gear, fish materials handling, fish processing, seafood science and aquaculture technology. Current programs are emphasizing fish handling and processing and seafood science.

In as much as the laboratory has a substantial quantity of specialized pilot plant and laboratory equipment and professional expertise, it can provide a unique R & D service to industry and government, either through short-term agreements or by extended contracts. In addition, the laboratory's special facilities and ongoing contacts with industry offer excellent opportunities for graduate training and research.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF CAPE BRETON

P.O. Box 5300
Sydney, Cape Breton County
Nova Scotia B1P 6L2
Dr. William Reid, President
Telephone (902) 539-5300

The College of Cape Breton was established on June 28, 1974, combining the Sydney Campus of St. Francis Xavier University and the Nova Scotia Eastern Institute of Technology into a single post-secondary institution under an autonomous Board of Governors. In June, 1982, the College was granted university status. However the University continues to offer programs leading to university degrees, diplomas in Applied Arts and Technologies, and Certification in Apprenticeship Technology.

The University College of Cape Breton also houses a number of Institutes involved in various fields of research. We have noted below special ocean industries related activities.

ATLANTIC FOUNDATION FOR OCCUPATIONAL & ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH

With the establishment of The Honorable John M. Buchanan Chair of Occupational Health and Safety Studies in March, 1984, a formal link has been established between University College of Cape Breton and the Atlantic Centre for Occupational and Environmental Health. Under the direction of Dr. Albert Prossin, the Chair will take on research and development and educational responsibilities for the Atlantic Foundation. NOTE: The Atlantic Foundation has also established "Ocean Industries Safety & Health Institute," OISHI, a non-profit organization dedicated to safer productivity, utilizing existing services and developing programs not currently available on the east coast of Canada. Specialized training and medical programs will also be offered by OISHI. Contact Dr. Albert Prossin at 562-5532.

ATLANTIC COAL INSTITUTE

Please note: Separate submission provided by Dr. Dieter Birk, Director of the Institute. Contact Dr. Birk at 539-2800.

GEOLOGY PETROLEUM CONSULTANT

Geology Petroleum Consultant Harry R. Oldale, M.Sc., P.Eng., Mineral Technology Instructor at UCCB, has acted as consultant and is currently publishing a report entitled "GEOLOGY AND HYDROCARBON APPRAISAL OF THE SCOTIAN SHELF WITH PARTICULAR EMPHASIS ON EASTERN SABLE AREA."

BRAS d'OR INSTITUTE

Through the Bras d'Or Institute the University has sponsored Fisheries seminars, has offered an Aquaculture course, co-sponsored the Bras d'Or Lakes Aquaculture Conference, carried out a variety of aquaculture and fisheries research projects, assisted in the design and construction of a fish boat of novel design and construction technology and has offered workshops in coal and coal mining as well as the application of high technology to industries in Cape Breton. Contact Dr. Donald Arseneau, at Ext. 296.

BEATON INSTITUTE OF CAPE BRETON STUDIES

The Beaton Institute has carried out research on the socio-economic effects of offshore development on Cape Breton Island. This research, conducted by Dr. Mary K. MacLeod of the Institute, is based on the Scottish experience with Offshore Development. Contact Dr. Mary K. MacLeod at Ext. 349.

ATLANTIC PROVINCES ECONOMIC COUNCIL

5121 Sackville Street, Suite 500
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 1K1
Robert Stuart, P.Eng., President
Telephone (902) 422-6516

APEC is an independent not-for-profit research and public policy organization whose objective is to promote the economic development of Atlantic Canada.

APEC membership encompasses small and large companies, labour groups, government agencies, members of the academic community and individuals.

APEC fulfills its mandate through:

- Developing and promoting effective public policy with respect to the region.
- Seeking to change or replace traditional public attitudes with a market-oriented perspective.
- Commenting on emerging public policy and issues.
- Delivering a unique economic information service to the APEC membership.
- Promoting economic cooperation among the four Atlantic Provinces and the Federal Government.

Regular APEC publications include the Atlantic Report published quarterly and the APEC Newsletter published eight times per year. APEC also publishes Atlantic Canada Today, a comprehensive economic handbook on the Atlantic Region.

CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION

5525 Artillery Place
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 1J2
Mr. John Veinot, Vice President
Nova Scotia & Newfoundland Division
Telephone (902) 422-4477

The Canadian Manufacturers Association is a large national organization which aims to help member companies with taxation, sales, labour relations, legislation, new technology, exports and many other aspects of a profitable operation. CMA keeps businesses informed with a bi-weekly newsletter, a quarterly publication of "Issues", library facilities and a wide choice of seminars and workshops that are of current interest to the business community.

The Association has well developed contacts in government circles and works closely with them to keep the business climate favourable to business interests.

CAPE BRETON DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

P.O. Box 1330
Sydney, Cape Breton County
Nova Scotia B1P 6K2
Mr. John Dodge, Vice President
Telephone (902) 539-5910

The Cape Breton Development Corporation, a federal Crown Corporation, was formed in 1967 to reorganize and rehabilitate coal mining in the Sydney coalfield, to promote and assist in the development of industry, and to broaden the base of the economy.

The Corporation operates three coal mines, together employing 3,500 people. More than a thousand others work in extensive surface facilities, which include a coal preparation plant, a railway system and a coal loading pier at Sydney Harbour.

The Industrial Development Division operates its own enterprises and has comprehensive and innovative programs to help entrepreneurs expand or establish in Cape Breton.

The Corporation's own programs cover a wide range, including operation of the Sydport Industrial Park, with its ocean-related facilities. Loans and other arrangements from a secondary industry program help manufacturers and processors respond to the growing number of opportunities connected with the coal mining industry, the fishery and the development of offshore gas and oil.

CAPE BRETON OFFSHORE TRADE ASSOCIATION

P.O. Box 520
Sydney, Cape Breton County
Nova Scotia B1P 6H4
Mr. John J. Campbell, President
Telephone (902) 564-6981

CBOTA is an association of independent companies working together to provide a full line of services to the offshore industry.

CBOTA assists member firms in pursuing opportunities related to the offshore industry and can also provide companies in the market for supplies or services with information on members and potential joint venture partners. CBOTA can also provide detailed facts and figures on our region which is defined as "Cape Breton Island and the Strait of Canso area".

DEPARTMENT OF REGIONAL INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION

P.O. Box 940, Station M
1496 Lower Water Street
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 2V9
Mr. Michael Lane
Regional Executive Director, Nova Scotia
Telephone (902) 426-2018

The Department of Regional Industrial Expansion (DRIE) is the federal government department responsible for the increase of industrial, commercial and selected tourism activity in Canada. Assistance to the ocean related industries may be made available through DRIE's major program, the Industrial and Regional Development Program (IRDP), plus ocean industry support programs.

OCEAN INDUSTRY DEVELOPMENT OFFICE

5077 George Street, 2nd Floor
Halifax Ferry Terminal Building
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 1M3
Mr. Hugh Plant, Director
Telephone (902) 426-8450
Telex 019-22790

A special division of DRIE, the Ocean Industry Development Office, has been established to provide a focal point and leadership in the growth of the ocean industry sector in Nova Scotia. The role of the Office is to actively promote the development of new and the expansion of existing ocean industries in Nova Scotia. The Office undertakes various marketing, promotion and information activities and assists firms to gain access to financial incentives and technical assistance.

ENERGY, MINES AND RESOURCES CANADA

ATLANTIC GEOSCIENCE CENTRE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY OF CANADA

P.O. Box 1006
(Bedford Institute of Oceanography)
Dartmouth, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B2Y 4A2

Mr. M.J. Keen, Director
Telephone (902) 426-8570
Telex 019-31552

The Atlantic Geoscience Centre, a division of the Geological Survey of Canada, is responsible for scientific investigations related to the geology and geophysics of Eastern Canada in both the onshore and offshore sedimentary basins.

The objective of the Centre is to provide geological knowledge and expertise in areas which may lead to the exploitation of Canada's resources. In the sedimentary basins, oil and gas are important potential natural resources and recent significant gas discoveries in the offshore areas may lead to future production. Underwater mining could become an important factor in the future. Good management of the environment also has many geological implications.

The work of the Centre falls into four categories: regional reconnaissance and mapping; evaluation of potential resources; environmental geology; and research and development.

One hundred professional and technical people are employed at the Centre.

CANADA OIL AND GAS LANDS ADMINISTRATION

1st Floor, Cogswell Tower, Scotia Square
2000 Barrington Street
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 3K1
Mr. Wynne Potter, Director General of Nova Scotia
Telephone (902) 426-8609

The Canada Oil and Gas Lands Administration (COGLA) is responsible for the management of oil and gas exploration and development in the Canada Lands, an area comprising 6.5 million square kilometres in the Yukon, the Northwest Territories and certain other northern areas under the jurisdiction of the Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development (DIAND), and approximately 3.9 million square kilometres off the East and West coasts and in Hudson Bay, under the jurisdiction of the Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources (EMR). The principal purpose for the creation of COGLA was to concentrate, within a single body, the oil and gas management functions exercised by DIAND, and by EMR with respect to Canada Lands.

COGLA is headed by an Administrator, who has authority to take all ongoing operational decisions and bears the principal responsibility to implementation of the Canada Oil and Gas Act. The Administrator is also, by joint EMR and DIAND ministerial designation under the Oil and Gas Production and Conservation Act, the chief Conservation Officer under the Act.

COGLA is composed of five branches and a Policy Analysis and Coordination Division. The respective responsibilities are as follows:

Land Management

The Land Management Branch is responsible for the negotiation, issuance and administration of exploration and production rights.

Engineering

The Engineering Branch is responsible for the regulation and monitoring of exploratory drilling as well as development and production activities on Canada lands. The Branch is responsible for ensuring that an operator takes all the precautions necessary for the safety of personnel, the prevention of pollution and the conservation of resources.

Resources Evaluation

Both the Land Management Branch and the Engineering Branch are assisted by the Resource Evaluation Branch, which approves geophysical and geological programs, evaluates and manages geological and geophysical information submitted by operators and assesses the oil and gas potential of all Canada lands offshore and in the North as a basis for resource management policies.

Environmental Protection

The Environmental Protection Branch is responsible for ensuring the projects are environmentally safe with respect to biological and physical regimes, and acceptable to relevant coastal communities, by assessing the environmental implications of offshore petroleum and mineral activities.

Canada Benefits

The Canada Benefits Branch is responsible for ensuring that Canada Benefits plans submitted by operators seeking exploration agreements or specific work or activity authorizations are satisfactory to the Minister.

Policy Analysis and Coordination

The Policy Analysis and Coordination Division is responsible for the analysis, development, interpretation and implementation of policy with respect to the management of oil and gas activity in the Canada Lands as well as for the provision of information of resources management policy and activity. The Division provides secretariat support to the Policy Review Committee and to the Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Oil and Gas Board.

CANADA-NOVA SCOTIA OFFSHORE OIL AND GAS BOARD

1st Floor, Cogswell Tower, Scotia Square
2000 Barrington Street
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 3K1
Mr. Wynne Potter, Director General of Nova Scotia
Telephone (902) 426-8609

The Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Oil and Gas Board was established to manage oil and gas resources activity off the coast of the province under the terms of the Canada-Nova Scotia Agreement of March 1982. The Administrator of COGLA is the chairman of the board, which includes two members appointed by Nova Scotia and two members appointed by the Government of Canada. The board reviews and approves all aspects of exploration, development and production off the coast of Nova Scotia. This includes, for example, approval of exploration agreements and associated Canada Benefits Plans (including benefits to Nova Scotia), transfers of interests, the environmental and safety requirements of drilling programs, and petroleum development and production plans.

INDUSTRIAL ESTATES LIMITED

Suite 700, 5151 George Street
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 1M5
W. Leslie Single, P.Eng., President
Telephone (902) 425-6331
Telex 019-22517

Industrial Estates Limited (IEL) is a provincial crown corporation operating the provincial industrial parks. IEL provides debt financing which can be integrated with DRIE grants.

MINISTRY OF STATE ECONOMIC AND REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Suite 3000, The Brewery
1489 Hollis Street
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 3M5
Telephone (902) 426-8361

TE Ministry of State for Economic and Regional Development (MSERD) advises the federal Cabinet on economic development.

NOVA SCOTIA DEPARTMENT OF DEVELOPMENT

P.O. Box 519, 5151 George Street
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3J 2R7
Hon. R.J. Thornhill, Minister
Telephone (902) 424-5680

The Department of Development is concerned with the overall economic climate of the province and is charged with stimulating economic growth and development in Nova Scotia. Branches of the Department dealing specifically with the offshore include:

INDUSTRIAL BENEFITS OFFICE

The Industrial Benefits Office within the Department is the first point of contact regarding offshore opportunities, industrial development programs, potential Nova Scotia joint venture arrangements and general information about the offshore and other major industrial opportunities. The Office is mandated to act as a liaison between the petroleum industry, the province and labour.

With the signing of the Canada/Nova Scotia Subsidiary Agreement for Ocean Industry Development, the Industrial Benefits Office became responsible for negotiating the Nova Scotia benefits package, which forms part of the exploration agreements signed with the oil companies. These benefits include Nova Scotia labour content, local purchasing, as well as identifying supplier gaps that can be developed by expanded Nova Scotia firms or new enterprises. The Canada/Nova Scotia Agreement has resulted in extensive exploration activity off Nova Scotia, leading to eventual development of resources.

OCEAN INDUSTRIES INNOVATION CENTRE

The Ocean Industries Innovation Centre provides advice and guidance to entrepreneurs and managers of small businesses in medium to high technology ocean industries. Professional services are also provided by staff or by providing financial assistance for the retention of specialist advisors.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BRANCH

The Industrial Development Branch is directly responsible for the formulation and implementation of a promotional program that encourages new industrial investment in Nova Scotia. The branch identifies and attracts investments in new manufacturing and service sector operations originating domestically and internationally, leading to job creation in Nova Scotia.

MARKET DEVELOPMENT CENTRE

NOVA SCOTIA DEPARTMENT OF MINES AND ENERGY

P.O. Box 1087
1690 Hollis Street
Halifax, Nova Scotia B3J 2X1
Hon. Joel R. Matheson, Q.C., Minister
Telephone (902) 424-6657

The Department of Mines and Energy acts on behalf of the Provincial Government in energy and mineral issues as owner, planner and regulator. The Department is organized into six divisions, which together support the Department's objective for the optimum development of energy and mineral resources and the attainment of a secure, efficient energy balance for Nova Scotia.

ENERGY RESOURCES DIVISION

One sector of the Energy Resources Division is responsible for monitoring, evaluating and regulating petroleum exploration and development activities onshore and, in conjunction with Canada Oil and Gas Lands Administration (COGLA), offshore Nova Scotia.

MINERAL RESOURCES DIVISION

The Mineral Resources Division is involved with geological, geochemical and geophysical studies, and mapping programs around the Province, which will assist companies with onshore mineral exploration.

OFFSHORE TRADE ASSOCIATION OF NOVA SCOTIA (OTANS)

P.O. Box 1474 North, 217 Bedford Highway
Halifax, Halifax County
Nova Scotia B3K 5J3
Mr. David H.W. Dibblee, Chairman
Telephone (902) 443-5476

The Offshore Trade Association of Nova Scotia (OTANS) is a province-wide organization whose objectives are to identify, promote and support the development of opportunities for Nova Scotian businesses in the offshore. The aim of OTANS is to maximize the extent of participation of Nova Scotian corporations in the supply of both goods and services to meet the needs of the offshore oil and gas industry.

The Association's membership now stands at 170 with companies representing all regions of Nova Scotia including Cape Breton, Canso Strait, Northumberland Strait, Annapolis Valley, South Shore, and Metro-Eastern Shore.

OTANS provides many services to its members through its Association office located in Halifax including a Newsletter produced quarterly as well as the distribution on a regular basis of information on events related to business opportunities, trade missions, pertinent conferences/seminars in the offshore field, etc. The Association also holds monthly meetings which are highlighted by guest speakers whose expertise falls in the realm of the oil and gas field on a local, national, and international scale.

The Association is supported by both the federal and provincial governments and works in close co-operation with the major East Coast operators to ensure that Nova Scotian firms are fully aware of the opportunities available to them in the oil patch as well as the most effective route to pursue to benefit them to the utmost in their pursuit for offshore related contracts.

The Association welcomes inquiries from Nova Scotian companies interested in membership and in participating in the offshore oil and gas industry.
